STATUS OF KIDNAPED TOURISTS IS SERIOUS

CHINA CHECKED IN FURTHER DEALING WITH THE BANDITS

BANDITS HAVE EVIDENTLY GAINED GREATLY IN NUMERICAL STRENGTH

DEMAND WITHDRAWAL OF GOVERNMENT TROOPS FROM THEIR SO-CALLED ZONE

(By United Press)
Peking, China, May 19.—The situation arising from the kidnapping of foreign tourists by Chinese bandits near Lin Cheng two weeks ago was growing darker today.

The government announced that further negotiations with the bandits for release of the captives seemed impossible.

The announcement declared that the bandits evidently have gained in numerical strength and have demanded not only withdrawal of government troops from the zone considered bandit territory but from all of Shantung.

Granting of such demands would leave foreign ministers entirely without recourse and the bandits masters of the situation.

U. S. AND POWERS TO SEND NOTE TO CHINA

Washington, May 19.—The United States and the other powers today decided to send another note to the Chinese government demanding that the government troops surrounding the Shanghai bandits be withdrawn.

The announcement was made today by the state department in making public the reports from the American legation in Peking regarding American and other foreign prisoners of the brigands.

The diplomatic corps at Peking had decided to issue the note to the Chinese foreign office calling on the government to fulfill its promise to withdraw troops.

Bonar Law Almost Certain to Resign, Believed

LOVE LETTER WRITTEN 55 YEARS AGO BRINGS AGED PAIR INTO COURT

Chicago, May 19.—Two emotions—love and jealousy—never die. An elderly couple stood in the court of domestic relations. They looked like grandparents of long standing, with snowy white hair and clothing of a fashion popular in Civil war days. "Well, Mrs. Walton," asked the judge, "what is the matter?"

"He accuses me of liking another man. He left me last week after a quarrel. I am 75, your honor, and I can't get along without him."

The judge leaned toward Asa Walton, the husband, who is 80. "There must be some mistake, Mr. Walton, I'm sure your wife does not care for anyone else."

Asa stroked his white beard. "I've always loved Minnie," he said, "but since finding that letter—"

"What letter?" demanded the judge.

"The one from John Wales. He asked her to meet him Thursday afternoon."

"That was 55 years ago," interrupted the wife. "John used to go with me before I was married to Asa. That was one of his letters I forgot to burn. Neither of us have seen John Wales for more than 50 years."

"Case dismissed," ordered the judge.

The elderly pair looked at each other a moment and then walked out, arm in arm.

66 FIRE VICTIMS BURIED IN GRAVE, 8 PASTORS THERE

COMMON GRAVE AT CLEVELAND, S. C., MEASURED 40 FEET BY 12 FEET

CREED, DOCTRINE AND SECT IS FORGOTTEN IN SORROWING SOUTHERN TOWN

(By United Press)
Cleveland, S. C., May 19.—With the simple reverence of village people stricken by a calamity almost too great to comprehend, this little township today completed burial of its dead—76, including 41 children, who perished in the school house fire Thursday night.

One mound in the cemetery on the edge of the township marks the final resting place into which 66 bodies were lowered amid touching scenes last evening. Today 10 remaining victims were to be buried.

The common grave was covered with a mass of flowers. The grave in which the 66 victims were buried was 40 feet by 12 feet. It is in the little cemetery of the Beulah Methodist church.

Creed, doctrine, sect were all forgotten in the services marking the interment of the charred remains. Eight pastors, including a bishop, took part in the burial service. Governor McCleod of South Carolina attended. Hundreds from adjoining counties stood at the grave side.

A selected choir of 40 voices sang hymns. The same ministers, the same choir, and many of the same mourners gathered again this morning, to bury the other ten victims. A permanent relief committee for the families and children was formed at a meeting this morning. The temporary relief committee was flooded with contributions and offers of assistance from many points.

"On behalf of Camden and Kershaw county, I thank the thousands of friends, who, in person or through far removed physically, came in spirit to tender their offers of assistance to Camden and Beulah church and Cleveland school," said C. J. Reardon, secretary of the Camden and Kershaw county chamber of commerce today.

CHURCHILL DOWNS KY. DERBY TODAY

(By United Press)
Cuhrehill Downs, Louisville, Ky., May 19.—A great army of racing fans from all parts of the country gathered here today to witness the running of the 49th Kentucky Derby.

Louisville, accustomed to Derby day excitement, was aroused by the inrush of strange people in the largest numbers in the history of Derby day who flocked to attend.

Special trains rolled in from New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, and many other cities. Railroad yards were filling up with private cars.

It was estimated 80,000 will see the running of the derby. Numbers of Extra-Mutuelle machines were brought here to take care of the immense plays of this race of races.

The big field had the players guessing. It meant a starter had to be lucky throughout the field to win. The Green-Tree Whitney entry of five horses—Picketer, Chick Vale, Elchament and Rialto, was most in demand and made favorites. The weather was clear and cool, assuring a fine track.

Monster Planet.

Everything connected with the sun is staggeringly big. Those little dark sun-spots which you peer at cautiously through the medium of a smoked glass are, most of them, many thousands of miles across. One was measured and found to have a diameter of 13,000 miles—which means that the earth could have been pitched into it like a golf ball into a pool of water.

*ONE LONE SOLDIER REMAINS TO WATCH RHINE FOR AMERICA*

New York, May 19.—One lone American soldier remains as the watch on the Rhine, although the army of occupation has moved out of Coblenz and the Stars and Stripes no longer wave over the fortress of Ehrenbreitstein.

Lieut. P. J. Davis of the division of criminal investigation, who arrived yesterday on the steamer President Roosevelt, said that he had left the one soldier behind to clean up some investigation and that he would positively be the last member of the Rhine force to return. He would not make known the soldier's name.

AMERICA RETAINS WALKER GOLF CUP

CLEAN, LAST DITCH FIGHT IS MADE BY YANKEE CONTESTANTS

(By United Press)
St. Andrews, Scotland, May 19.—The American Amateur Golf Team came from behind when they won in the last round the Walker International Cup here this afternoon from the British team.

The American went into the second days' play for the cup with the score 3 to 1 against them and little hope held out for them, except that they might hold their own in the 82 matches that made up the day's final.

By winning five of today's matches and halving one of them they gained the right to hold the trophy which they won last year at Southampton, New York.

It was the clean, last-ditch fight of some of the least famous members of the team that turned the tide to victory for the Americans.

Jess Sweetzer and Dave Herron failed to win, and Francis Quinnet had to be contented with a "draw" against Roger Wethered. It was George Gartner, S. Rotan, Max Mars-ton, Fred Wright and "Doc" Willing who rallied to the cause and turned what had been regarded by the English as a certain defeat of America into a glorious victory.

A series of 12 matches, 4 two-ball foursomes and eight singles, was played to decide possession of the Walker Cup on Friday, the British winning 3 out of 4 foursomes.

Today America won five out of eight singles and halved one, giving them the victory by 6 1/2 points to 5 1/2.

The honor of winning the match that clinched the victory for America fell to Doctor O. F. Willing, of Portland, who was not considered good enough to play in the foursome yesterday. In the final match of the day Willing defeated W. A. Murray 2 and 1.

Walter Hagen Defeated

Leeds, England, May 19.—Walter Hagen, American golf professional was defeated in the finals of the Yorkshire Evening News championship here today by H. C. Jolly, Britisher, two up.

MEEKER COUNTY SHIPS EGGS CO-OPERATIVELY

Litchfield, Minn., May 19.—Meeker county claims the distinction of having the first creamery district in the state to take up co-operative egg shipping, following plans worked out at a series of meetings conducted last winter. Eggs are now being shipped by the carload lots.

In the last month the creameries have been shipping a car of eggs each week. The car represents about $3,500, or 400 cases. Eight creameries are buying eggs co-operatively.

Last Tuesday a carload of 425 cases was shipped, which at market price will be worth about $3,600.

HONDURAS PRISONER CONFESSES SHE IS THE HAMMER MURDERESS

SENSATIONAL DISCLOSURE MADE STIRS TOWN OF TEGUCIGALPA

CAGED "TIGER WOMAN" BREAKS DOWN AS AMERICAN DETECTIVES COME

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)
Tegucigalpa, Honduras, May 19.—A sensational confession that she is none other than Clara Phillips, 'hammer slayer,' sought throughout the western world since her escape from a Los Angeles jail last year, was made today by the woman who has been held here under suspicion.

American detectives arrived to identify the prisoner, and simultaneously with their arrival the woman, who had previously maintained silence, attacking anyone who sought to learn her secret, broke down and confessed she is the woman who was convicted and sentenced for beating to death Alberta Meadows.

Authorities had not thought the woman held prisoner here, who had displayed a fierce attitude that made approach dangerous, was actually the "tiger woman" of California.

Her companions, a man and a woman, the former detained here on suspicion of being Jesse Carson, wanted in Los Angeles, had denied she was Clara.

But when the detectives arrived at Amapala, Honduras, a group of reporters who went into the cell in which the strange woman was confined were startled by her when she burst into a dramatic confession that she was indeed the woman who was convicted of wielding a hammer with such deadly effect upon her friend whom she suspected of stealing her husband's affections.

The high spirits that had kept her head up while she was being detained and questioned fell from her like a garment. As she was brought down for questioning her eyes grew blank and then wild. She showed symptoms of being dazed. It was feared the caged "tiger woman" might attempt to take her own life, but later, after she had said yes, that she was Clara Phillips, she seemed willing to accompany the detectives to Los Angeles, where she will be taken.

Prefers Death to Imprisonment

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, May 19.—Declaring that she would rather die than be taken back to life imprisonment in San Quentin, Clara Phillips, convicted hammer slayer, was closely guarded today, following a dramatic confession of her identity.

With the arrival here of Under-Sheriff Viscalluse from Los Angeles, the woman held here on suspicion of being the slayer of Mr. Alberta Meadows and who escaped from a California jail after her conviction of the crime broke down and admitted that she was none other than the woman sought for throughout the United States and Central America.

The American minister was in the cell when the confession was made. The suspected woman had been held here since her arrival with two companions, one of whom was believed to be Jesse Carson and was detained.

From the first she had declared that she was not Mrs. Phillips. No one was found who could positively identify.

Sheriff Viscalluse, however, recognized her at once.

"Well, you gave us a merry chase, Mrs. Phillips," he said. She assented.

"Yes, and we are going to take you back," said the sheriff.

Then for the first time the identity of Clara Phillips' woman companion was learned. She is the hammer slayer's sister.

Turning to the other woman, Vis-

ANSWER WITHOUT THINKING BRINGS
SIX MONTH SENTENCE

Appleton, Wis., May 19.—"Do you make your own moonshine?" asked Municipal Judge A. M. Spencer of Albert Belke of New London, after he had fined the man $100 and costs for fishing for sturgeon in violation of the state game laws. "Yes," answered Belke, unawares. Judge Spencer then sentenced Belke to six months in jail for violating the state prohibition act.

EASTER ISLAND SAID TO HAVE DISAPPEARED

Melbourne, Australia, May 19.—A wireless message apparently from a vessel, has been picked up here stating that Easter Island has disappeared.

Reports that Easter Island had disappeared have been prevalent since the disastrous earthquake which shook northern Chile last November. The last definite report was made by the captain of a French merchant ship who declared he found nothing but water at the position given to the island on his chart.

Easter island used by the Chilean government as a penal colony, is the eastern-most inhabited of the Polynesian group and is remarkable for its gigantic statues and sculptured rocks, apparently the work of a prehistoric people. The population is about 1,200.

Gould's Death Laid to Visit to "Tut's" Tomb

Nice, France, May 19.—Friends of George J. Gould, the American financier, who died at Cape Martin, near Mentone, Wednesday, declared that his fatal illness originated in a cold caught in the Valley of the Kings, which he visited after the discovery of Tutankhamen's tomb. The cold persisted, pneumonia followed, and, with a complication of heart disease, caused his death.

NEAR PANIC AT 'U' FROM POISONING

CHICKEN SALAD GETS MANY
SICK AT FUNCTION HELD
TODAY

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, May 19.—Near panic at the University of Minnesota resulted today from food poisoning.

Scores participating in the cap and gown luncheon became violently ill. Nearly 800 women dined at the university services and became ill from poisoned food today. Some who fainted from pain were reported in serious condition.

It is feared that chicken salad which was served at the luncheon may have been tainted and it is thought it may have been the cause of the illness. None of the foods served, however, was available for analysis. Many of the Minnesota university captains were also ill.

calluse said:

"Etta May Weaver (the name by which Mrs. Phillips' sister is known in Los Angeles), that was pretty cute of you to ask me to get Clara's clothes after she had escaped."

"How was I to know Clara had gotten away?" she rejoined.

"Where was Clara when you got her clothes?" the sheriff asked.

"I wanted to get them to keep for myself," was the answer.

Then, in a flood of emotion, the suspected woman broke down and cried out that she would die before she would be taken back to expiate the crime for which she was held.

As a matter of precaution she is being closely guarded to prevent any attempt at suicide.

POLITICAL EXPERTS, HIS FRIENDS AND BRITISH PRESS SAY

PREMIER'S ILLNESS IS MUCH
MORE CRITICAL THAN AT FIRST REALIZED

CONSERVATIVES IN CONFERENCE
REGARDING A SUCCESSOR
TO LAW

(By United Press)

London, May 19.—Bonar Law is now certain to resign, political experts, his friends, and the British press agree. His resignation may come very soon, but almost certainly before the second of July, it was learned on the best authority.

The premier's illness is much more critical than at first was realized. He is returning from Paris this afternoon.

The call for Harley, heart specialist, today, as learned by the Paris press, suggests that Bonar Law's affliction is of a most serious nature. His friends are alarmed; but the physicians gave out no inkling of the exact nature of the trouble.

Lord Beaverbrook, who went to Paris to see Bonar Law, one of his closest friends, hurried back here in obvious alarm, and is now in conference with Conservatives regarding a successor.

Already there is talk of who shall succeed Bonar Law. Some are talking of a Conservative for the position, others do not.

Until a short time ago Marquis Curzon was looked upon as a likely successor to the premiership.

Now Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer and acting premier, is coming along as a likely rival to the foreign minister. If Curzon gets the premiership, it is likely Baldwin will drop his support, and it will be hard for the former to carry on. Lord Beaverbrook at first refused to consider Curzon. The possibility that Austin Chamberlain might be put up for the position is scouted as often as it is reiterated.

Premier Law will arrive from Paris this evening, it having been decided to have him return before his illness might become worse.

The premier will go to his private home and not to Downing Street. He will remain there under constant care of physicians under orders to give him complete rest from official duties.

PREMIER LAW RETURNS LONDON, VERY SICK MAN

London, May 19.—Premier Bonar Law returned from Paris this evening a very sick man according to his physicians, to find the British political world in a turmoil over speculation on his probable successor.

The prime minister was driven to his private residence instead of to Downing Street, and every effort will be made to keep him from spending his strength upon official duties.

His throat affliction is severe, and associates expect his resignation to be tendered as early as possible.

HUGHES HEADS WORK IN AMERICANIZATION

Miss Margaret J. Quillard, Duluth, was elected vice-president, and Robert Mayo of Hopkins was made secretary.

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 19.—The American Amateur Golf Team came from behind when they won in the last round the Walker International Cup here this afternoon from the British team.

The American went into the second days' play for the cup with the score 3 to 1 against them and little hope held out for them, except that they might hold their own in the 82 matches that made up the day's final.

By winning five of today's matches and halving one of them they gained the right to hold the trophy which they won last year at Southampton, New York.

It was the clean, last-ditch fight of some of the least famous members of the team that turned the tide to victory for the Americans.

Jess Sweetzer and Dave Herron failed to win, and Francis Ouimet had to be contented with a "draw" against Roger Wethered. It was George Gartner, S. Rotan, Max Marton, Fred Wright and "Doc" Willing who rallied to the cause and turned what had been regarded by the English as a certain defeat of America into a glorious victory.

A series of 12 matches, 4 two-ball foursomes and eight singles, was played to decide possession of the Walker Cup on Friday, the British winning 3 out of 4 foursomes.

Today America won five out of eight singles and halved one, giving them the victory by 6½ points to 5½.

The honor of winning the match that clinched the victory for America fell to Doctor O. F. Willing, of Portland, who was not considered good enough to play in the foursome yesterday. In the final match of the day Willing defeated W. A. Murray 2 and 1.

MEEKER COUNTY SHIPS EGGS CO-OPERATIVELY

Litchfield, Minn., May 19.—Meeker county claims the distinction of having the first creamery district in the state to take up co-operative egg shipping, following plans worked out at a series of meetings conducted last winter. Eggs are now being shipped by the carload lots.

In the last month the creameries have been shipping a car of eggs each week. The car represents about $2,500, or 400 cases. Eight creameries are buying eggs co-operatively.

Last Tuesday a carload of 425 cases was shipped, which at market price will be worth about $2,600.

HONDURAS PRISONER CONFESSES SHE IS THE HAMMER MURDERESS

SENSATIONAL DISCLOSURE MADE
STIRS TOWN OF TEGUCIGALPA

CAGED "TIGER WOMAN" BREAKS DOWN AS AMERICAN DETEC-
TIVES COME

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)
Tegucigalpa, Honduras, May 19.—A sensational confession that she is none other than Clara Phillips, 'hammer slayer,' sought throughout the western world since her escape from a Los Angeles jail last year, was made today by the woman who has been held here under suspicion.

American detectives arrived to identify the prisoner, and simultaneously with their arrival the woman, who had previously maintained silence, attacking anyone who sought to learn her secret, broke down and confessed she is the woman who was convicted and sentenced for beating to death Alberta Meadows.

Authorities had not thought the woman held prisoner here, who had displayed a fierce attitude that made approach dangerous, was actually the "tiger woman" of California.

Her companions, a man and a woman, the former detained here on suspicion of being Jesse Carson, wanted in Los Angeles, had denied she was Clara.

But when the detectives arrived at Amapala, Honduras, a group of reporters who went into the cell in which the strange woman was confined were startled by her when she burst into a dramatic confession that she was indeed the woman who was convicted of wielding a hammer with such deadly effect upon her friend whom she suspected of stealing her husband's affections.

The high spirits that had kept her head up while she was being detained and questioned fell from her like a garment. As she was brought down for questioning her eyes grew blank and then wild. She showed symptoms of being dazed. It was feared the caged "tiger woman" might attempt to take her own life, but later, after she had said yes, that she was Clara Phillips, she seemed willing to accompany the detectives to Los Angeles, where she will be taken.

Prefers Death to Imprisonment

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, May 19.—Declaring that she would rather die than be taken back to life imprisonment in San Quentin, Clara Phillips, convicted hammer slayer, was closely guarded today, following a dramatic confession of her identity.

With the arrival here of Under-Sheriff Viscalluse from Los Angeles, the woman held here on suspicion of being the slayer of Mr. Alberta Meadows and who escaped from a California jail after her conviction of the crime broke down and admitted that she was none other than the woman sought for throughout the United States and Central America.

The American minister was in the cell when the confession was made. The suspected woman had been held here since her arrival with two companions, one of whom was believed to be Jesse Carson and was detained.

From the first she had declared that she was not Mrs. Phillips. No one was found who could positively identify.

Sheriff Viscalluse, however, recognized her at once.

"Well, you gave us a merry chase, Mrs. Phillips," he said. She assented.

"Yes, and we are going to take you back," said the sheriff.

Then for the first time the identity of Clara Phillips' woman companion was learned. She is the hammer slayer's sister.

Turning to the other woman, Vis-

ANSWER WITHOUT

SIX MONTH SENTENCE

Appleton, Wis., May 19.—"Do you make your own moonshine?" asked Municipal Judge A. M. Spencer of Albert Belke of New London, after he had fined the man $100 and costs for fishing for sturgeon in violation of the state game laws. "Yes," answered Belke, unawares. Judge Spencer then sentenced Belke to six months in jail for violating the state prohibition act.

EASTER ISLAND SAID TO HAVE DISAPPEARED

Melbourne, Australia, May 19.—A wireless message apparently from a vessel, has been picked up here stating that Easter Island has disappeared.

Reports that Easter Island had disappeared have been prevalent since the disastrous earthquake which shook northern Chile last November. The last definite report was made by the captain of a French merchant ship who declared he found nothing but water at the position given to the island on his chart.

Easter Island used by the Chilean government as a penal colony, is the eastern-most inhabited of the Polynesian group and is remarkable for its gigantic statues and sculptured rocks, apparently the work of a prehistoric people. The population is about 1,200.

Gould's Death Laid to Visit to "Tut's" Tomb

Nice, France, May 19.—Friends of George J. Gould, the American financier, who died at Cape Martin, near Mentone, Wednesday, declared that his fatal illness originated in a cold caught in the Valley of the Kings, which he visited after the discovery of Tutankhamen's tomb. The cold persisted, pneumonia followed, and, with a complication of heart disease, caused his death.

NEAR PANIC AT 'U' FROM POISONING

CHICKEN SALAD GETS MANY
SICK AT FUNCTION HELD
TODAY

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, May 19.—Near panic at the University of Minnesota resulted today from food poisoning.

Scores participating in the cap and gown luncheon became violently ill. Nearly 800 women dined at the university services and became ill from poisoned food today. Some who fainted from pain were reported in serious condition.

It is feared that chicken salad which was served at the luncheon may have been tainted and it is thought it may have been the cause of the illness. None of the foods served, however, was available for analysis. Many of the Minnesota university captains were also ill.

cailluse said:

"Etta May Weaver (the name by which Mrs. Phillips' sister is known in Los Angeles), that was pretty cute of you to ask me to get Clara's clothes after she had escaped."

"How was I to know Clara had gotten away?" she rejoined.

"Where was Clara when you got her clothes?" the sheriff asked.

"I wanted to get them to keep for myself," was the answer.

Then, in a flood of emotion, the suspected woman broke down and cried out that she would die before she would be taken back to expiate the crime for which she was held.

As a matter of precaution she is being closely guarded to prevent any attempt at suicide.

POLITICAL EXPERTS, HIS FRIENDS AND BRITISH PRESS SAY

CONSERVATIVES IN CONFERENCE
REGARDING A SUCCESSOR
TO LAW

(By United Press)
London, May 19.—Bonar Law is now certain to resign, political experts, his friends, and the British press agree. His resignation may come very soon, but almost certainly before the second of July, it was learned on the best authority.

The premier's illness is much more critical than at first was realized. He is returning from Paris this afternoon.

The call for Harley, heart specialist, today, as learned by the Paris press, suggests that Bonar Law's affliction is of a most serious nature. His friends are alarmed; but the physicians gave out no inkling of the exact nature of the trouble.

Lord Beaverbrook, who went to Paris to see Bonar Law, one of his closest friends, hurried back here in obvious alarm, and is now in conference with Conservatives regarding a successor.

Already there is talk of who shall succeed Bonar Law. Some are talking of a Conservative for the position, others do not.

Until a short time ago Marquis Curzon was looked upon as a likely successor to the premiership.

Now Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer and acting premier, is coming along as a likely rival to the foreign minister. If Curzon gets the premiership, it is likely Baldwin will drop his support, and it will be hard for the former to carry on. Lord Beaverbrook at first refused to consider Curzon. The possibility that Austin Chamberlain might be put up for the position is scouted as often as it is reiterated.

Premier Law will arrive from Paris this evening, it having been decided to have him return before his illness might become worse.

The premier will go to his private home and not to Downing Street. He will remain there under constant care of physicians under orders to give him complete rest from official duties.

PREMIER LAW RETURNS LONDON, VERY SICK MAN

London, May 19.—Premier Bonar Law returned from Paris this evening a very sick man according to his physicians, to find the British political world in a turmoil over speculation on his probable successor.

The prime minister was driven to his private residence instead of to Downing Street, and every effort will be made to keep him from spending his strength upon official duties.

His throat affliction is severe, and associates expect his resignation to be tendered as early as possible.

It is that force born with you and in you which regulates your life from the moment of conception until the last spark leaves your body.

It is the same force that clothes the lily so that its beauty is perfect.

It is the same force that gives power and cunning to the wild animal.

It is the same force that heals a wound or knits together a broken bone.

MINNESOTA'S NEXT SENATOR

WHILE Governor J. A. O. Preus has seen fit to call an election in which the people of Minnesota will decide by ballot who is to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Knute Nelson, that fact does not change the conviction of those who believe that Governor Preus should go to Washington.

There has been some question as to whether it was legal for the governor of Minnesota to resign to be appointed to the senate by his successor in the highest office in the state. Perhaps, this might have been done without bringing about the unseating of the appointed senator, as the decision on who is entitled to sit in the senate rests with the senate itself, which must pass upon cases of this kind; but Governor Preus has thought it wise and proper to call a special election in which the people of the state may express their desire. The state of legislation is such that it is not clear that the governor was required to do this, and no provision is made for such an election. The people, therefore, have all the more reason to appreciate the governor's decision to throw the choice of a senator over to them instead of going ahead and accepting an appointment, which might have been ratified by the senate, but which might have caused resentment on the part of some who felt that the governor had engineered his own appointment.

The Dispatch took the position, when it was generally accepted as settled that the governor would be appointed to fill the unexpired term, that he was the logical man for the place. It was Senator Nelson's wish that Governor Preus should succeed him; the governor has the training and experience in public life that fits him for the position, and the fact that he has gained this large experience while he is yet young is no reason why he should not succeed his friend.

Now that the governor has announced his candidacy for the senate, in the election that is to be held to fill the unexpired term, we are still found with those who believe that Governor Preus should go to Washington. He is well trained, sensible, practical, and is not carried away by the cure-alls that are offered to alter all that is wrong in the social and economic order. But while this is true, the governor's service to the state has proved him to be a man who will yield his position on a given matter, if it is proved that his stand is mistaken. Not alone because the governor is free from any radical tendencies, does he win our support, but also because there is every reason to believe that he will not oppose a change when a change is desirable, and will not cling to something merely because it has served in the past.

If there are disgruntled politicians in the state, and probably there are, these are not disaffected because of the governor's weakness but because he has shown his strength. Governor J. A. O. Preus has fearlessly decided very many matters during his tenure of service as governor of Minnesota and his decisions have not always met with the approval of politicians in this state. This leads us to believe that Governor Preus, who is a young man with a future before him, will do what he feels to be his duty in the senate, and of the candidates that have been mentioned none is as well fitted to represent Minnesota in the United States senate.

BETTER THAN A FACTORY

Now that it is settled that nineteen disabled service men will locate on farms in Crow Wing county, this splendid addition to the county becomes a matter of congratulation and rejoicing on the part of the citizens of the county. The people of Crow Wing county have always felt that they were not going beyond what is justified by facts when they praised the advantages of this county. The fact that these men have chosen Crow Wing county, after having the opportunity to look over other locations, proves that they agree with what the residents of the county have had to say about it.

It is not merely because these men with their families will be a valuable asset to the county, and a source of business to the city of Brainerd, that the people of the county are rejoicing that they have decided to live here. The people who welcome them are convinced that they are coming into a county whose natural advantages are such that they have not made a mistake in choosing it as their future location; and because these men served their country in a time of emergency, and in that service were disabled, the citizens of Crow Wing county wish them to find a location in which they will be contented, prosperous and happy.

But there is the other side to the matter, which is not to be overlooked. While these men are welcomed, with the wish that they may never regret their coming, the people of the county will reap a certain reward through their energies, expended in the development of the county's resources, and the city of Brainerd will be the trading center from which these men draw supplies and in which they spend their money. If twenty-five or more men settle here, their settling will be equal to the establishment of a new factory in Brainerd. They will be worth more to Brainerd than a factory employing the same number of men would be. These men are going into a work that is permanent; the improvements they make on the land they purchase will not be torn down but will be abiding. They will not shape materials into certain forms as a factory does but they will create produce. A factory employing twenty-five men and undergoing no expansion has a static value, but the values that these men represent through their holdings in the county will have a steady growth.

Those who have exerted themselves to induce these men to locate in Crow Wing county deserve credit; the citizens of Crow Wing county welcome the new-comers and hope that the exchange of land for money, of produce for cash, and of cash for supplies, will be carried on in the spirit of good-will.

FREE SPEECH

IN these days the limits that are put around the right of freedom of speech have become circumscribed. It has become necessary to differentiate between liberty and license. In Minneapolis recently, the mayor of that city found it wise to bring certain persons into court because they had exercised a freedom of speech that was calculated to do him an injury. In that case the jury decided that those accused had libeled the mayor, and they were found guilty in the verdict that was returned to the court.

Jackie Coogan Is Master of Every Emotion

The complaint is frequently urged against the screen that it has relegated the art of acting to a back seat and has emphasized the importance of "type"; that the capacity to reveal a wide variety of characters is no longer encouraged but that the screen players are chosen for their resemblance, fancied or otherwise, to the part to which they are assigned.

Little Jackie Coogan is the supreme exception to this rule. Circumscribed as he is, of course, by his extreme youth, he has not been given roles that belie his age, but if he were called upon he could give a cameo performance of Shylock, differing only from the work of a mature genius as a miniature differs from an oil portrait. For Jackie reveals with ease the entire realm of human emotions. This fact is firmly and finally established in his performance of the role of Jackie Holden in Sol Lesser's presentation of "Daddy," which was written for Little Jackie by his father and mother, and is now appearing at the New Park theatre tonight and Sunday.

In the old days a player would assume Hamlet tonight and Petruchio tomorrow; he would be in tragedy on one performance and in comedy on another.

"Daddy," for the first time in Jackie's brief artistic career, gives him opportunity to reveal the depths of tragedy. It is not a mournful, harrowing picture, but there is one scene in it which takes the little actor to the edge of the very abyss of despair—not the petulant, shallow sorrow of careless childhood, but the poignant heart-searing sadness of a human soul to which no age can be assigned. The scene is brief and is preceded and followed by the smiles and laughter always associated with this little genius; but within the limits of its brief spell this episode will move the most sophisticated spirit and stir the hardest heart, provided there be left in them a spark of real humanity.

The State of Minnesota, to all persons interested in the granting of administration of the estate of said decedent: The petition of Amanda L. Clausen having been filed in this court, representing that Minnie L. Fogelberg, then a resident of the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, died intestate on the 9th day of May, 1923, and praying that letters of administration of her estate be granted to said Amanda L. Clausen, and the court, having fixed the time and place for hearing said petition: Therefore, You and Each of You, are hereby cited and required to show cause, if any you have, before this court at the probate court rooms in the city of Brainerd, in the County of Crow Wing, State of Minnesota, on the 11th day of June, 1923, at Ten o'clock A. M., why said petition should not be granted.

Witness, the Judge of said Court, and the seal of said Court, this 18th day of May, 1923.

J. T. SANBORN,
Probate Judge

Most people feel that the jury brought in a decision that was abundantly justified, and that it is necessary to put a check to statements that are thrown about but which cannot be proved.

Because there has been a tendency to carry the right of freedom of speech too far, so that license has taken the place of liberty, there has been a swing to the other extreme and men have been judged guilty of wrong-doing before they have spoken at all. If it is true that those who deliberately attempt to injure others, either through innuendo or by attempting to stir up revolution, should be punished, it is also true that a man cannot be denied the right to speak on questions that call for discussion, so long as, in discussing them, the speaker does not attempt to do injury to others.

All history teaches that it is impossible to repress those sentiments that seek expression in speech. Christians may be imprisoned in catacombs, prophets may be driven from their country, but, despite all attempts to prevent the spread of what they seek to express, it spreads. Repression may silence voices in the present, but the individual voices that are silenced today are heard in the roar of the mob tomorrow. Repression and revolution are related; one follows the other.

Men have not the license to speak when they incite others to work injury upon others; nor have they the license to seek to do injury to the individual through slanderous statements, but men should have the liberty to speak on all subjects that affect themselves or their fellows; this right is inalienable and will be taken away by those in power at their peril. The exigencies of war led Americans to stand for a repression that they will not countenance in times of peace.

The surety bond of the treasurer elect was on motion placed at twenty thousand dollars for the present, the premium to be paid by the board.

On motion the salaries of the secretary and treasurer were placed at the same amount as before.

The secretary and superintendent of schools were authorized to purchase school desks and teachers desks and any amount of paper that they deemed advisable.

The board then spent about two hours discussing in an informal way the matter of a new high school building, taking no definite action on it however.

During the past week the entire board has spent about two days inspecting school buildings and equipment of the city schools with the view of obtaining information as to next year's needs in these lines.

On Thursday officials signed the contract with the government which assures the training school for veterans of the late war, who are coming to this vicinity and settling on farms. Nineteen have already purchased their land and will soon be located on it. The school board, under the terms of the contract, furnish a school room for these men, when needed and an instructor to continue the training which was begun at the University farm.

New Business Started by George J. Johnson in Pearce Block, South Broadway

The Electric Shop in the Pearce block on South Broadway is the latest addition to Brainerd's business directory.

George J. Johnson, a former business man of the city, has again joined the ranks of our retailers, and is equipping his store for the servicing of electrical goods and accessories.

Mr. Johnson is not a new comer in the electrical line, having started one of the first shops of this kind in Brainerd, which he later disposed of to specialize in the automobile battery business.

Poor health forced him to give up this work, also, and for the past two years, he has been living at South Long lake, but retaining the agency for an electric lighting system. This he disposed of recently when he decided to again enter the retail line.

His experience in the electrical business and the wide acquaintance which he enjoys, will do much toward making Mr. Johnson's enterprise a success.

Everything that one expects to find in a well appointed store of this kind will be carried in the Electric shop, including well known and nationally advertised vacuum sweepers and power washing machines.

PRINCESS CANDY KITCHEN

Formal Opening Friday and Saturday is Attended by Many People

Work has been completed on the interior of the Princess Candy Kitchen, and Gust Hoveas, the proprietor is holding a formal opening on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The remodeled quarters of this popular establishment present a very fine appearance in the new dress, making it in reality an entirely new place of business, since very little of the former equipment has been retained.

As one enters the Princess he is confronted with large new candy cases on the one side and a beautiful fountain on the other. This fountain is one of the late models put out by the Liquid Carbonic Co. It is larger than the former one used by Mr. Hoveas and has the advantage of more and better storage space for ice cream, and keeps water at the freezing temperature continually. The back-bar is also new to match the fountain. New silver and glassware, too, have been added.

The ice cream parlor section shows the greatest change. The old booths and tables have been replaced by the new shoulder-height booths, twelve in number, each seating four patrons. The tables in each booth are marble topped. Plenty of mirrors around each booth adds to the attractive appearance of the place.

In front of the booth section is another new candy case, of oval design, which is used exclusively for box candy. This, with the large cigar stand and tobacco, cigarette and gum cases, completes the equipment of the Princess.

All of the woodwork on this new equipment is of mahogany, trimmed with white marble. The booths are of the sanitary-base design, as are some of the cases. The general appearance is the better set off by a new lighting system.

Mr. Hoveas states that he has contracted for his season's supply of ice cream, which he feels is the best obtainable, since it is Brainerd made. With the new equipment he is prepared to concoct several new ice cream dishes that have not been previously introduced in this city.

A larger stock of cigars and candies will be handled than in the past, and the proprietor will also carry a finer line of fruits. The Princess has always enjoyed its share of popularity, which promises to be increased with the new appointments. Candy souvenirs are being given the ladies on the opening days, and the kids are to be remembered next week with ice cream cones, says Mr. Hoveas.

Every Phase of "Gobs" Work From Class Work to Play, Divine Service to War Shown

E. G. T. Hansen, chief carpenter's mate in the U. S. Navy, who is in charge of navy recruiting in this district, has a very interesting display of pictures in the farmers room at the court house, turning this room into a veritable art gallery.

The pictures, which are in reality paintings taken from actual views, are twenty-six in number. The "American Sailor", or "Gob" as he is familiarly known among his fellows, is shown at home, abroad and at work on his ship.

The young men, all fine types of American manhood, are shown learning and plying their various trades, some as electricians, signmen, blacksmiths, engineers, stenographers and many of the fifty-five lines taught in the U. S. navy.

Class work, divine services and making use of the ship's library are depicted in these views, which show all of the different ways the young men spend their time, both in work and at play.

A great deal of his liberal education, the sailor receives in his world cruises, and the paintings show him enjoying the sights in the different ports in South America, Europe, Asia, the Hawaiian Islands and Egypt.

So that all may have an opportunity to view these paintings, Mr. Hansen has arranged to have the farmers room open all day Sunday. Monday will be the last day of the exhibition, and the pictures will be taken to Bemidji and later to other cities in this district.

Citizens of Brainerd, and especially the young people, are urged to visit this exhibit and get acquainted with one of the strongest arms of Uncle Sam's military force. Such a visit is an education in itself.

FANNING FARRELL

GREATEST DRAWING CARD IN SPORTS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, May 19.—During the little dinner party which the management of the Pennsylvania relay carnival always throws for visiting coaches and newspapermen, a discussion arose over what athlete was the greatest drawing card in the United States.

Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth and Charley Paddock were generally voted to be the leading attractions in the world of sport, but opinion varied on the proper ranking of the three celebrities.

Until there is some sport stadium bigger than any now standing in this country, it will be impossible to conclude which has more of an appeal to the public imagination, Jack Dempsey or Babe Ruth.

Dempsey had ninety thousand pairs of eyes on him when he fought Georges Carpentier two years ago in Jersey City. It must be considered, however, that Dempsey on that occasion was not the chief attraction and that Carpentier might have been the big drawing card.

It is likewise true that the attendance at the Dempsey-Carpentier fight would not have been greater even if the Rickard arena had been built with a greater seating capacity.

Taking the word of Tex Rickard, perhaps the foremost showman and crowd psychologist in the country, Dempsey will only draw a crowd when there is a spectacular touch or a promise of a hard fight. Rickard would not consider a Dempsey-Gibbons fight because he felt that it would not draw a crowd big enough to return a profit on the huge investment necessary to meet the financial demands of the principals.

Dempsey and Wills would draw a crowd as large perhaps as that which saw the champion apply the nippers to the flower of France. There would be an atmosphere of the dramatic in a Dempsey-Wills fight through the color angle. Dempsey might then be considered to be a great drawing card only when there are spectacular settings on the stage and he has a "card" against him.

In the two years when he was in his prime, Babe Ruth broke the attendance record in every American League park. No baseball fields were large enough to accommodate the crowds that wanted to see the Swat King in action.

No stadium will be big enough to meet the demand if Ruth gets going again this year. Seventy-five thousand fans attended the opening of the new Yankee stadium and, according to police department estimates, twenty thousand were turned away and perhaps as many did not go to the park because they felt they couldn't get in.

Considering that Ruth has drawn multitudes day after day, season after season and that his specialty does not have the appeal to the primitive instinct that a man-to-man fight in the ring has, it would seem that Babe Ruth is the greater drawing card of those two kings of their individual lines.

Lawson Robertson, the famous Pennsylvania track coach, considers Paddock's drawing power almost on a par with that of Dempsey and Ruth.

"In my opinion, Paddock is one of the greatest drawing cards in all sports," Robby said during the discussion.

"Paddock has been advertised all over the world. His performances in his particular line are as great as those of Ruth's, whereas Dempsey's appeal comes from a very different kind of sentiment.

"If the Pennsylvania stadium could seat 75,000 or 100,000 instead of 55,000, I would wager the stands would be filled if a series of races could be staged between Paddock and Alfred LeConey, the Lafayette star.

"I know that such a crowd would turn out if the Paddock-LeConey races were the feature, say, of the Penn relay carnival or the inter-collegiate championships. It might be argued that the other part of the program would prove a big drawing card and that would be true only when it is granted that the preliminaries to a big fight are more than trimmings to keep the crowd interested and when it is considered that crowds going to see Ruth have the added entertainment of seeing a good ball game, while Ruth is not at the bat."

As far as the drawing power of Dempsey is concerned, it must be considered that the champion inherits most of his appeal to the public, as there has always been a tremendous interest in heavyweight championship bouts and the personality of the champion is, most of the time, a secondary feature.

This theory is all the more sound when it is considered that Dempsey is not universally popular and that a good many of the spectators he drew to Jersey City came through the desire to see him knocked out.

NEW YORK ONLY STATE TO SEE FIGHT PICTURES

New York, May 19.—The world at large will be spared the film version of last Saturday's mauling and fancy diving exhibition for sweet charity at the Yankee stadium, in which the principals were heavyweights all.

The emphatic statement that no theatre outside of New York state will show the motion pictures of the two ton boxers' carryings-on was made today by Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Pictures corporation, in charge of the distribution of the fight pictures for the International News Reel pictures.

Film experts figure the fight pictures would gross more than $1,000,000 if sneaked into other states, but Universal's management has decided to abide by the letter of the law and show the pictures exclusively in New York state.

INTER-SCHOLASTIC MEET IN MILL CITY

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, May 19.—A downpour drenched the Northrup field today just before 42 state high school track teams were to start in the 14th inter-sectional meet.

The rain stopped at noon but heavy black clouds threatened more rain momentarily. A strong wind blew up and the air was heavy.

Officials feared that the schedule of events would run far into the night. The meet has the largest number of entries in its history. More than 450 prep school stars were to compete.

Nine Twin City schools are in the Class A division and a number of outside high schools are in the Class B division.

St. Cloud, Winona, Mankato, and Duluth Central were believed the strongest teams in the Class B competition.

The annual Northwestern-Minnesota Dual meet featured the day. Minnesota was doped to defeat Northwestern in the conference class.

It Was An Eventful Day

St. Louis, May 19.—In Thursday's game New York checked Shocker's winning streak of five straight and beat St. Louis 9 to 2. The Brown's star moundman was batted out of the box in less than three innings. Bush was ordered off the field in the eighth inning for protesting a called ball—the first pitch in the inning. Babe Ruth got his fifth homer in the ninth inning off Bayne. Bush had 1 hit, 3 assists, figured in a double play Bush to Ward to Pipp, gave 4 walks, struck out 1, and allowed 6 hits in 7 innings.

GUN CLUB SCORES

Excellent scores were made Thursday evening by the Brainerd Gun club. Art White was high gun with 96 out of 100. He was also high in the doubles with the good score of 23 out of 24. Deering had the longest run.

GREATEST DRAWING CARD IN SPORTS

United Press Sports Editor

New York, May 19.—During the little dinner party which the management of the Pennsylvania relay carnival always throws for visiting coaches and newspapermen, a discussion arose over what athlete was the greatest drawing card in the United States.

Jack Dempsey, Babe Ruth and Charley Paddock were generally voted to be the leading attractions in the world of sport, but opinion varied on the proper ranking of the three celebrities.

Until there is some sport stadium bigger than any now standing in this country, it will be impossible to conclude which has more of an appeal to the public imagination, Jack Dempsey or Babe Ruth.

Dempsey had ninety thousand pairs of eyes on him when he fought Georges Carpentier two years ago in Jersey City. It must be considered, however, that Dempsey on that occasion was not the chief attraction and that Carpentier might have been the big drawing card.

It is likewise true that the attendance at the Dempsey-Carpentier fight would not have been greater even if the Rickard arena had been built with a greater seating capacity.

Taking the word of Tex Rickard, perhaps the foremost showman and crowd psychologist in the country, Dempsey will only draw a crowd when there is a spectacular touch or a promise of a hard fight. Rickard would not consider a Dempsey-Gibbons fight because he felt that it would not draw a crowd big enough to return a profit on the huge investment necessary to meet the financial demands of the principals.

Dempsey and Wills would draw a crowd as large perhaps as that which saw the champion apply the nippers to the flower of France. There would be an atmosphere of the dramatic in a Dempsey-Wills fight through the color angle. Dempsey might then be considered to be a great drawing card only when there are spectacular settings on the stage and he has a "card" against him.

In the two years when he was in his prime, Babe Ruth broke the attendance record in every American League park. No baseball fields were large enough to accommodate the crowds that wanted to see the Swat King in action.

No stadium will be big enough to meet the demand if Ruth gets going again this year. Seventy-five thousand fans attended the opening of the new Yankee stadium and, according to police department estimates, twenty thousand were turned away and perhaps as many did not go to the park because they felt they couldn't get in.

Considering that Ruth has drawn multitudes day after day, season after season and that his specialty does not have the appeal to the primitive instinct that a man-to-man fight in the ring has, it would seem that Babe Ruth is the greater drawing card of those two kings of their individual lines.

Lawson Robertson, the famous Pennsylvania track coach, considers Paddock's drawing power almost on a par with that of Dempsey and Ruth. "In my opinion, Paddock is one of the greatest drawing cards in all sports," Robby said during the discussion.

"Paddock has been advertised all over the world. His performances in his particular line are as great as those of Ruth's, whereas Dempsey's appeal comes from a very different kind of sentiment.

"If the Pennsylvania stadium could seat 75,000 or 100,000 instead of 55,000, I would wager the stands would be filled if a series of races could be staged between Paddock and Alfred LeConey, the Lafayette star.

"I know that such a crowd would turn out if the Paddock-LeConey races were the feature, say, of the Penn relay carnival or the inter-collegiate championships. It might be argued that the other part of the program would prove a big drawing card and that would be true only when it is granted that the preliminaries to a big fight are more than trimmings to keep the crowd interested and when it is considered that crowds going to see Ruth have the added entertainment of seeing a good ball game, while Ruth is not at the bat."

As far as the drawing power of Dempsey is concerned, it must be considered that the champion inherits most of his appeal to the public, as there has always been a tremendous interest in heavyweight championship bouts and the personality of the champion is, most of the time, a secondary feature.

This theory is all the more sound when it is considered that Dempsey is not universally popular and that a good many of the spectators he drew to Jersey City came through the desire to see him knocked out.

NEW YORK ONLY STATE TO SEE FIGHT PICTURES

New York, May 19.—The world at large will be spared the film version of last Saturday's mauling and fancy diving exhibition for sweet charity at the Yankee stadium, in which the principals were heavyweights all.

The emphatic statement that no theatre outside of New York state will show the motion pictures of the two top boxers' carryings-on was made today by Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal Pictures corporation, in charge of the distribution of the fight pictures for the International News Reel pictures.

Film experts figure the fight pictures would gross more than $1,000,000 if sneaked into other states, but Universal's management has decided to abide by the letter of the law and show the pictures exclusively in New York state.

Compliments.
Compliments which we think are deserved, we accept only as debts, with indifference; but those which conscience informs us we do not merit we receive with the same gratitude that we do favors given away.—Goldsmith.

INTER-SCHOLASTIC MEET IN MILL CITY

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, May 19.—A downpour drenched the Northrup field today just before 42 state high school track teams were to start in the 14th Inter-scholastic meet.

The rain stopped at noon but heavy black clouds threatened more rain momentarily. A strong wind blew up and the air was heavy.

Officials feared that the schedule of events would run far into the night. The meet has the largest number of entries in its history. More than 450 prep school stars were to compete.

Nine Twin City schools are in the Class A division and a number of outside high schools are in the Class B division.

St. Cloud, Winona, Mankato, and Duluth Central were believed the strongest teams in the Class B competition.

The annual Northwestern-Minnesota Dual meet featured the day. Minnesota was hoped to defeat Northwestern in the conference class.

"Three Live Ghosts" Today at Lyceum

A picture of exceptional merit is showing at the Lyceum theatre. It is a Paramount production by George Fitzmaurice in which many historical spots in London are pictured. Anna Q. Nilsson and Norman Kerry, both well known to the Paramount audiences, are the featured players. The story is comedy drama, which deals with the return of three war veterans, who are supposed to have been killed in the late world war. When they breeze back home and find—O Boy! It's too funny for words.

Theo. Roberts Ideal As Uncle Josh

The Paramount picture version of the classic will be shown at the Lyceum theatre Sunday for 3 days, and has a wonderful cast, including besides Mr. Roberts, Harrison Ford, T. Roy Barnes, George Fawcett, Fritz Ridgway, Kathleen O'Connor, James Mason, and others.
